Yolo County COVID-19 Update

Beginning this week, our graph following the COVID-19 numbers has changed to match the updated monitoring from the County. The following graph shows our cases per 100,000 as well as the positivity rate.

According to Dr. Aimee Sisson, schools can begin holding in-person instruction at the elementary level if the case rates are below 25/100,000. Yolo County's current case rate is 21.6/100,000. I have attached Dr. Sisson's presentation from this week's regular board meeting. The meeting can also be viewed at: <https://livestream.com/wjUSD>

WJUSD Health and Safety Plan

This email is to inform you that the WJUSD Health and Safety Plan is now available on our website. It can be found on the main page under "Information About Phase 2 - Return to school Resource Center".

This plan was created in collaboration with Human Resources, Student Services, and Maintenance and Operations and Administrators. The plan was shared with our labor partners and presented to the Board of Trustees last evening. The plan provides a guide for staff, families, and our community outlining our implementation of health and safety practices implemented across the District in response to COVID-19. This guide is a “living” document and will be reviewed and updated as guidance, requirements, and conditions change. We encourage all staff members to view the plan here. The Spanish version will be available soon.

WJUSD Resources for Students and Staff

It is with great excitement that WJUSD announces that our Care Solace anonymous self referral access page (for students & staff) is live on our district website! Counselors will continue to make referrals to more intensive supports using this service, but through a different portal. Counselor referrals will be easy to monitor to ensure connection to appropriate supports have been made.

While you can access this through our Social & Emotional Resource Page, I have added the links below to support you in quickly reviewing this resource. Please feel free to add this link to your district page.
